

COVA CASE STUDY REPORT APRIL 2016- MARCH 2017

Meet Children of Rohingyas

Fouzia: Fauzia is a 16-year old Refugee girl from Myanmar. She came to Hyderabad along with her family in 2013. Her father was a farmer in Myanmar, but because of some health issues, he is not able to work anymore. Her elder brother is taking care of the family. She is staying in Jallpally and studies in 6th standard in ST. Mary's High School at Jallpally. She had never gone to school in Myanmar.

She is having five brothers. Elder brother is working in a meat factory, her other three brothers are studying in the same school, while the younger is too small to go to school yet. Fouzia is showing good progress in her studies despite not having formal schooling earlier and the teachers are very appreciative of her potential and dedication. She is one of the 20 refugee students COVA is supporting for education by collecting donations from family and friends. Now Fauzia could have a dedicated donor and also an assurance of continued support for her studies in the coming years if she is accepted as an eligible candidate.

We have discussed with the school for some concessions and the amount of Rs. 10,000 that would be available would be sufficient for a year to cover tuition fees, books and two uniforms.
